The Christmas Bureau Needs a Home for 2014

August 5, 2014, Monroe, NC – The Union County Christmas Bureau is searching for a home for this Christmas season.

The Bureau needs a distribution site that is approximately 20,000 sq. ft., centrally located in Monroe, and preferably rent free for October - December. The Bureau can pay for utilities during the time the space is occupied. The owner of the site can use the rent as a charitable deduction.

"We have tried to get most of the obvious locations that are currently empty," said Union County Volunteer Services Coordinator Gloria Haney. "So while we appreciate ideas, we are at a critical point and need resources. We are looking for individuals with contacts and resources that can utilize them to obtain the space as the Christmas season quickly approaches."

If you know of any space in Union County the Christmas Bureau can use, call Gloria Haney at 704-296-4312 or send her an email at ghaney@co.union.nc.us.
