Richard McMillan Named Assistant Director of Public Works

July 14, 2014, MONROE, NC – Richard D. McMillan has been named assistant director of Public Works for Union County. His first day with the county is July 28.

McMillan has worked as assistant director of Public Services for the City of High Point since 2006, but is no stranger to working for municipal governments in North Carolina. He has more than 26 years of experience in design, construction, operations and management of public utility/public works systems in North Carolina, including the City of Winston Salem, Winston Salem/Forsyth County Utilities, Charlotte-Mecklenburg Utilities, Town of Mooresville and the City of Marion.

McMillan has been active in professional organizations for many years. He has served on the board and as president of the Administrative Management Division of the American Public Works Association – North Carolina Chapter. He has served on several committees for the American Water Works Association – North Carolina Chapter and has taught numerous math classes at AWWA Collection and Distribution Schools across the state to water and wastewater operators for many years to prepare students for state exams.

McMillan was born and raised in Raleigh and graduated from North Carolina State University in 1988 with a bachelor of science degree in Civil Engineering. He became a Registered Professional Engineer in 1992. He has been married to his wife Leslie, an elementary school teacher, for more than 25 years. He and Leslie have two sons, Preston, 19, a freshman at NCSU and an Eagle Scout and Grant, 17, a high school senior and Eagle Scout.
