Celebrating Hispanic Heritage Month

MONROE, N.C. (September 13, 2019) – The Union County Public Library is recognizing Hispanic Heritage Month by celebrating the diverse and valuable stories, experiences and cultures the Hispanic community contributes to our community.

From September 15th to October 15th, the library is hosting several entertaining and educational programs. Scheduled events include:

- Game nights with lotería, dominoes and more
- Quinceañera make-up class
- A Quinceañera extravaganza – dresses and all!
- Teen writing programs with Irania Patterson and Carlos Robinson
- Paper-flower making
- Movie nights
- An oral history project to record the Hispanic voices of Union County

People of all ages are invited and encouraged to attend these programs. “This is a great opportunity for the residents of Union County to learn about, and celebrate, the Hispanic cultures of Union County,” said library employee Tino Bratbo, who is coordinating the programs. “It’s an opportunity for everyone – those who speak Spanish and those who speak English, those of Hispanic heritage and those who are not, children and adults, to participate in something together and learn from each other.”

For more information and for dates of specific programs and events, see the library’s program guide on the Union County website.
